

Freedom in an Era of Structural Crises: Climate Change and Post-Truth

Auditório 08
April 2nd, 2024
Workshop at the
Universidade de São Paulo

This workshop will examine two intimately connected crises, i.e. climate change and post-truth that are currently threatening all Western democracies and present a fundamental challenge to the predominant notion of freedom as autonomy.

Opening remarks (13h-13h15)

Table 1: The Ends of the Domination of Nature: Freedom Beyond Autonomy? (13h15-15h15)

Virginia Costa, Philosophical Anthropology, Kinship and Mutuality: Towards Relative Autonomy (USP)

Thomas Khurana, The Crisis of Autonomy and the Promise of Aesthetic Freedom (University of Potsdam)

Vladimir Safatle, Nature as a Theologico-political Concept: Reframing the Notion of Autonomy (USP)

Table 2: Agency and Personhood in Times of Climate Change and Post-truth (15h45-17h45)

Marília Pisani, Global Warm as Global War: The 'Climate Changes' and the Ideology of War's Technologies. (UFABC)

Oliver Precht, Tilting at Windmills? Towards a Post-Positivist Politics for the Age of Post-Truth (ZfL Berlin)

Katrin Trüstedt, Nature as Person? On a Social Conception of Personhood. (ZfL Berlin)

Closing remarks (17h45-18h)

Coordenação:

Vladimir Safatle (DF/FFLCH-USP)

Informações:

filosofia.fflch.usp.br/eventos/10702

Endereço:

 Av. Prof. Luciano Gualberto, 315. Ed. Filosofia e Ciências Sociais. FFLCH/USP. Cidade Universitária, São Paulo-SP

